[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, March 4.—A cablegram to the Daily News from Peking says Yuan Shi Kai's son, addressing his father's soldiers today, imploring them not to cause the ruin of the country. The men wept and said they feared that Yuan's going south would cause their disbandment and starvation. They declared the disorder was meant as a protest against their chief's going away and that they would remain faithful hereafter.

Berlin, March 4.—The situation in China is causing considerable anxiety here and contributed today to a heavy break on the bourse. The German ministry, at the request of the foreign office, today ordered a detachment of one hundred men to proceed from Tsin Tung Pao to Peking to reinforce the German legation guard. The newspapers state that Dr. Shuey, who was killed in Tien Tsin was an Austrian and not a German subject.

City Quiet.
Tientsin, March 4.—Absolute quiet has prevailed in all parts of the city today. The measure taken by the foreign counsel and commander of the various troops stationed here evidently has intimidated the riotous element of the population and the mutinous soldiers.

Japs Ready.
Washington, March 4.—One thousand Japanese troops are being sent to Peking to reinforce the legation guard there, the Japanese embassy here announced today on receipt of advices from Tokio.

Tientsin Turbulent.

ALLOW EXCHANGE OF SCHOOL LANDS FOR MORE COMPACT AREA

President Taft Signs Agreement Which Gives South Dakota Permission to Adopt New System.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, March 4.—To provide for carrying out an agreement under which school lands of South Dakota will be exchanged for national farm lands of equal area and value, President Taft has signed a proclamation which makes it possible for the state to select immediately 10,543 acres of land from the Warner Sioux national forests.

This will permit the indemnity section by the state in place of school lands along and within the boundary of the Black Hills Forest, which will become part of the forest.

A board of three composed of supervisor, collector of the Black Hills National Forest and Frank Brinkner, commissioner of the department of school and public lands of South Dakota and Seth P. Hubbard as the third member has made a careful study to learn the value both of the school lands and of the areas not relinquished by the government.

Field parties have gathered data for every section involved with the result that the new areas are known to be fair exchange for the school lands to which the state relinquishes its claim.

The exchange is the first of a plan inaugurated by the forest service several years ago and laid before the governors of the western states with a view to settling the question of school lands within the national forests. An agreement similar to this with the state of South Dakota has been entered into with Idaho and negotiations with other states are pending.

The consolidation of areas into compact bodies will aim to holding more advantageous soil than would otherwise be possible and enable the states to obtain better returns for the school lands.

Under the terms of the proclamation selection by the state of South Dakota must be filed within ninety days from the date of the proclamation or from the approval of the official plat of survey of any unsurveyed land covered by the agreement.

ENGLISH FACTORIES ARE CLOSING DOWN FOR WANT OF COAL

Over a Million Men Are Out of Employment and Number Exceeds Hourly—Coal Strike Threatened in Germany.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
London, Eng., March 4.—Factory after factory is closing down all over the United Kingdom as a result of the national coal strike, and those responsible for the trouble are simply marking time for the present, although it is expected negotiations will soon be resumed.

Million Men Out.
It is estimated that nearly one million miners have ceased work, and there are upwards of two hundred thousand in other industries idle owing to the strike and the number is increasing hourly.

The crews of coal carrying vessels lying in the coal ports are now being discharged as the ships are unable to get cargo and the railroad employees are suffering in a similar way because of the further cancellation of the railway companies of the train service.

Good Feeling Prevails.
One short line in Yorkshire has discontinued service entirely. In one instance the striking miners have refused permission to enter the mines in order to permit the police which have been left below or to keep the working clear. Generally, however, the utmost good feeling prevails between the men and the owners.

Strike in Germany.
Bochum, Germany, March 4.—A miners' strike which was totally unexpected and which had not been ordered by the miners' union, broke out in three mines here today—the men leaving work because they asserted an unjustified reduction had been made in their wages.

The incident is feared may lead to a precipitation of the general strike of miners on the question of wages, which the leaders of miners' union and the mine owners are just now endeavoring to prevent.

Men Are Censured.
The executive committee of national miners' federation issued a proclamation censuring the men for committing a breach of discipline by leaving work without the consent of the union.

The proclamation ordered the men to resume work, but there is great apprehension that the situation will get beyond control.

SUFFRAGETTES AGAIN RAMPAGE IN LONDON

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
London, Eng., March 4.—A small band of suffragettes, armed with hammers and stones, went through Knightsbridge and Brompton Road today in the west end of London, started breaking plate glass windows and dry goods stores from and, in usual, owing to the disturbance being unexpected, the police on duty in that district were unable to cope with the suffragettes who were distributed over a wide area.

The store keepers and their employees were compelled to serve on duty as sentries in front of their premises, but in many cases were unable to keep the women from doing damage.

A department of mounted police were the first to reach the scene and one of them was immediately grabbed from his horse by the excited women. In one store damage was done to the extent of $1,250. Thirty women were arrested.

ORDER DYNAMITERS TRIED IN INDIANA

Two Milwaukee Men Held In Conspiracy Must Be Tried at Indianapolis—Applis Says Judge Sanborn.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 4.—William E. Reddin and Herman G. Selfert of this city will be removed to Indiana for trial on the government's charge of conspiracy in the alleged dynamiting of the United States District Attorney Guy D. Goff's application for their removal was granted today in an opinion filed here by Federal Judge A. L. Sanborn of Madison, who took the ground that if these two defendants had committed an offense in Wisconsin, the offense charged in the indictment of dynamite or nitroglycerine in interstate commerce in a conspiracy to violate federal laws.

Judge Sanborn's ruling will probably affect the efforts of other defendants, two of whom in New York, to prevent extradition to Indianapolis for trial.

Reddin and Selfert, who are officials of the Milwaukee structural iron workers' union, denied positively, in the hearing before Judge Sanborn last week, any participation in or knowledge of the alleged conspiracy.

They entered strong objection to being tried in a strange city and contended that if they had committed the crime named in the indictment in this state and not in Indiana.

Judge Sanborn held that every shipment by McManis or McNamara was chargeable also to all the other defendants who had then joined the conspiracy.

"No offense, if any," he said, "was committed in Indiana, although it may also have been in other states. The most convenient place of trial, from the standpoint of all the defendants, is in the District of Indiana. Therefore these defendants should stand trial there, with the others, unless they have the right, under the constitution, to be discharged from arrest here."

Reddin and Selfert challenged the sufficiency of the indictment in that it was not explicit enough in presenting proofs of guilt. The court held, however, that in a case where secrecy is of prime importance, a grand jury is justified in not incorporating too specific statements in the indictments.

LAWRENCE STRIKERS MAINTAIN STRENGTH

Two Milwaukee Men Held In Conspiracy Must Be Tried at Indianapolis—Applis Says Judge Sanborn.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Lawrence, Mass., March 4.—The striking textile mill workers maintained most of their strength when the mills opened today despite the offers of a five per cent increase in wages. There are still more operatives out of work than there are in the mills. Picket lines totalling over 5,000 persons were on Essex Street and the entrance to the mill gates for an hour and a half but there was no conflict with the police. Unless there is a marked response within a few days to the mill owners offer, it is said by city officials and others that the mills will have to shut down.

In Washington.
Washington, March 4.—Hearing on the Lawrence, Mass., textile strike was resumed before the house committee on rules today with the committee of strikers and children from Lawrence present. It is planned to load steamers with a double quantity of coal so that round trip voyages from the coast may be completed with American coal.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
It Crook, March 4.—Lumbermen and others having business interests along the Mississippi, Wisconsin, Black and Chippewa rivers are preparing so far as they can for a serious flood anticipated when the ice breaks up in a few days. Heavy rains last fall, just before the freeze-up, filled the swamps with water which froze instead of running off, and added to this the unusually deep snow and the ordinary rains of spring will produce a volume of water, the streams will not be able to take off. Dams are being strengthened, protections built around works on the river and movable property is being hauled back from the lands over which the waters are expected to sweep.

MRS. GEO. RABENAU and BABY

HUSBAND 3 MAY "SWING" FOR KAUFMAN MURDER.
Chicago, Ill.—Following close upon the heels of the four young men executed here for the murder of a truck farmer, comes the Kaufman murder, which was quite as aggravated and wanton in its brutality and which may lead to the execution of four more men. The murder occurred in the Lake View residence district where Mr. and Mrs. Kaufman were returning home. Four men suddenly stepped from an automobile and held them up at the point of a gun. Mrs. Kaufman shrieked and one of the four fired at her, killing the victim. Fred Bonchum, one of the four men, has pleaded guilty and the other three are now awaiting trial before Circuit

EVIDENTLY WAS NOT OFFICIALLY STATED

James Clough Takes Exception to Candidate Maxfield's Claims As to What He Has Accomplished.

Evidently there is a difference of opinion as to what Candidate Harry Maxfield has really accomplished for the city during his terms as city attorney. James Clough, assessor for the fifth ward, has something to say on the subject, and as he has acted for the city for several years in his official capacity he should know what he refers to. He writes the following communication:

March 4th, 1912. To the Editor of the Gazette: Dear Sir: In reading Mr. H. L. Maxfield's paid advertisement in the Jamesville Daily Recorder of February 27, 1912, Mr. Maxfield states that after trying for about five years as city attorney to secure a more equitable assessment of the property of the city of Jamesville without any results, he filed a complaint last August with the Wisconsin State Tax commission. Now I, as one of the assessors, did not know that we were under Mr. Maxfield's orders. There was a supervisor of assessment, F. P. Starr, who used to call all the assessors of the county to a meeting at the court house the last Tuesday in April for instructions in our duties and to vote to assess all property at 80 per cent of its true value, or as near as we could get it. We also voted to assess tobacco at $5.00 per case for all and $15.00 per case for wraps and binders, and that was unlawful, but the custom had been followed for so many years that it seemed natural to follow it. Now Mr. Maxfield, as city attorney, comes in on the Board of Review, which is composed of the mayor, city attorney and city clerk. Mr. Maxfield tells small taxpayers what he has done for them. Now let us see what he does on the Board of Review. We will take the Jamesville Electric company. It was assessed at $200,000. The Jamesville Electric company came before the Board of Review and made complaint. The Board of Review heard their arguments and lowered the Jamesville Electric company's assessment to $175,000, and when the expert assessors came what did they do? They put the Jamesville Electric company up to $275,000. Now the local assessors assessed on a basis of 80 per cent of true value and the Board of Review and experts on a true value basis. Now I would ask Mr. Maxfield if the Board of Review ever ruled an assessment and we assessed on an 80 per cent basis, and the Board of Review on a true value basis.

Mr. Maxfield started the action against the Jamesville Winter company over three years ago, and it is not settled yet. If we live long enough we may see it settled, and what does it amount to? You will get cheaper water and higher taxes. I am sure Mr. Maxfield will call it just and equitable for thousands of taxpayers that don't use the water to pay higher taxes so that their neighbors can have cheaper water. But it is not settled yet. The Gas Light company, but it is not settled yet. The Jamesville Traction company, but it is not settled yet. The Jamesville Interurban company, but it is not settled yet.

JAMES CLOUGH, Fifth Ward Assessor, 530 South Pearl street.

JAMESVILLE U. C. T. MAY SECURE GRAND COUNCIL FOR 1913

Committee Seeking Opinion of Local Men—First State Grand Council Was Held in Jamesville.

At a meeting of the United Commercial Travelers of this city Saturday evening a committee was appointed to interview the business men of Jamesville concerning their sentiment on the question of having the Grand Council of the U. C. T. here in 1913. It is very probable that the big council can be brought here for the first three days of June, Thursday, Friday and Saturday and if the people of Jamesville are willing to have it come the invitation will be presented at the June meeting to be held in Sheboygan this year.

Over two thousand delegates attended the meeting last year at Green Bay and through the three days of session the crowd visited the city. Four or five bands are always on the program as the Council makes the music one of the features of the occasion and some of the best and biggest bands from the cities are generally furnished. During the three days a long list of entertainments is usually placed on the program and the social part of the Council is an important one of the features which has made these Councils famous throughout the country and the entire delegation will probably take part in this parade in their full uniform. A gorgeous banquet is always on the program and a ball for the U. C. T. and their wives and friends is held. The ladies have been accustomed in former years to hold a reception and the visiting ladies are usually taken for a ride around the city in which the council is held. Hundreds of other things which will add to the pleasure and enjoyment of the occasion will be provided which will not only be interesting for the delegates but to the people in the city as well.

Jamesville had the first Grand Council of the U. C. T. ever held in the state and the local members want to have it come here again with the twenty-five hundred members which are now in Wisconsin. The committee which was elected to see the business men was C. B. Evans, H. M. Weaver and C. H. Roeder who will begin their work at once. On March 15th will be held an open meeting of the U. C. T. to which a number of prominent business men of the city will be invited to give their opinions on the subject of having this great gathering in Jamesville next year. C. H. Roeder and P. A. Green were chosen as the representatives to the Grand Council at Sheboygan next June.

Officers for the year were elected Saturday night by the Travelers as follows: P. L. Mueger, S. C.; J. J. Fletcher, J. C.; P. A. Green, Secretary; George Overmeyer, conductor; G. W. Williamson, porter; W. E. Clinton, son, theel, and H. M. Wilson and C. N. Larsen members of the executive board.

MONROE TELEPHONE CO. OF IMPORTANCE RECORDED

Jamesville Will Still Be Able to Reach Points West of Monroe on Independent Lines.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the United Telephone Co. of Monroe last Thursday, the offer of the Bell Co. to buy them out was voted down and plans made for rebuilding the lines now owned by them. In view of the fact that the United Company owns the lines to Blanchardville, Mendota and Albany, besides a large system of toll lines with which the Rock County Company now has direct connection the local line was saved from being cut off entirely from this large area by the refusal of the Monroe people to sell. The United Company has a capital invested of $75,000 and will put $13,000 into new equipment at once.

JAMES L. CRONIN

ROBERT H. MORRIS WAS CALLED SUNDAY

Aged Resident of Jamesville and Founder of Rock River Machine Company Has Passed Away.

Robert H. Morris died at 2:55 p. m. yesterday at his late residence, 223 Fourth avenue, this city, after a lingering illness extending over a period of fourteen years.

Mr. Morris was born in Christiania, Norway, Nov. 28, 1847, and came to America when sixteen years of age. He was first employed in Chicago in one of the large foundries, and after a brief period in the west, settled in Jamesville in 1870. He was the founder of the Rock River Machine company.

In 1871 he was married to Caroline Marie Carlson. He was a man of wonderful constitution, but fell victim to a stroke of paralysis in 1899 and one year later sustained a broken hip in an accident, since which time he had been practically an invalid. His sunny disposition throughout all his long suffering, and despite his long suffering, met them all smilingly, constantly looking forward to the time when he should be able again to join his shipmates.

The funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30, March 5th, and interment will be at Oak Hill cemetery.

He is survived by his widow, three brothers and four sisters. The brothers are Severin J. Morris, Beloit; A. P. Morris, Chicago; Harold Morris, Norway; the sisters, Mrs. George Hansen, Beloit; Anna Morris, Mrs. P. A. Ingelborg, and Mrs. N. Harnarh, Norway.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Paid advertisement; amount paid, $1.00 each insertion.

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of Mayor of the City of Jamesville, at the coming primaries to be held on the 19th day of March, 1912.

To the Citizens of Jamesville: Realizing the responsibility of the office I am about to seek and fully conscious of the duties of said office, and with a full belief that I could bring to said office a knowledge gained by long experience in the municipal affairs of our city, which would be of material benefit to the taxpayers and citizens in general, and particularly, now that we are about to enter upon a new form of government.

Therefore I seek the nomination and election to the office of Mayor. Should I be entrusted with the Honorable and important duties of said office, I can only promise to the best of my ability, an honest, economical, industrious and faithful administration of its duties in a plain, business-like manner. Soliciting the support of my fellow citizens and submitting my past public record to stand in judgment of my future actions, I am, Yours truly, JAS. A. FATHERS.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

At the request of many friends I have decided to announce myself as a candidate for the office of Mayor at the primary election to be held March 19, 1912.

It is due the voters and tax payers to know what I stand for, and what I will attempt to do in accomplishing it.

First, I believe in a conservative, economical business administration where every dollar expended represents a dollar in value.

Second, I believe in the impartial enforcement of law without fear or favor and that no line of business should be exempt.

Third, I believe that the number of saloons in Jamesville makes it necessary for the men engaged in the business to resort to all sorts of devices to make a living. The number should be reduced and the men that are licensed should understand that offenses will not be tolerated. Obey the law or forfeit the license.

Fourth, the city is polluted with dives and gambling houses, with slot machines and other devices which ruin our boys and young men. These conditions should not exist and they need not.

I believe that my experiences for the past 35 years with men and affairs, qualifies me to render the city, which has long been my home, efficient service. I ask your support at the polls.

Under the leadership of Mr. Buchanan the Bower City band has progressed wonderfully in the past year and now it intends to blossom out as a minstrel organization. It is some years since Janesville had a home talent minstrel show and the plans of the band boys will be watched with interest. The date is not set for the performance but a meeting will be called Thursday night to discuss matters.

JANESVILLE LADY'S GOITRE VANISHING

MISS ELMA SPENCER TELLS OF WONDERFUL EFFECT OF THE UNITED DOCTORS' TREATMENT.

METHODS USED ARE NON-SURGICAL.

Escaped the Dreaded Operation And Her General Health Is Also Improved.

Time and again have Janesville people attested to the wonderfully rapid results obtained with "The United Doctors' treatment—the expert specialists who have their Janesville Institute in the Hayes Bldg., corner of Milwaukee and Main streets. Every testimonial the United Doctors receive is a source of pride to them for it shows their work is more than usually appreciated. It is small wonder when an ailing person who has had the impression a surgical operation is necessary finds that they can be cured without the knife and the fact is proved to them.

Miss Elma Spencer, a well known young lady, who lives at 23 South Main street, Janesville, is one of the latest to offer praise to the United Doctors, and her statement is as follows:

Janesville, Wis., March 2, 1912.
Dear Doctors: I have been suffering with a severe case of Goitre for the last two years which troubled me greatly. I was afraid to undergo an operation for this and having heard that "The United Doctors" could cure Goitre without an operation I decided to go to you.

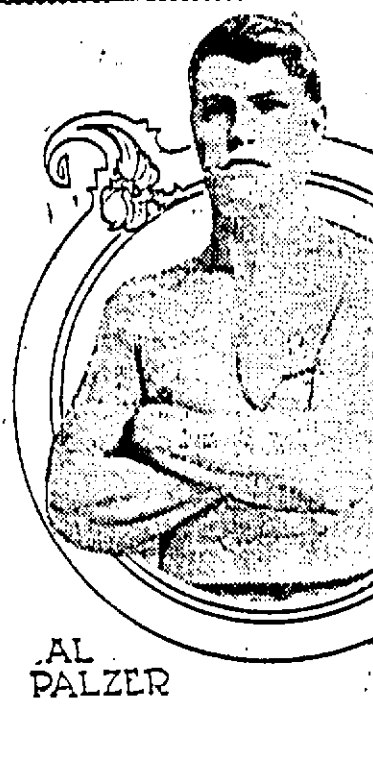

It might interest you to know of my present condition since starting your treatment. I used to sing a great deal and would suddenly choke and not be able to emit a sound. Now I have no trouble of that nature whatever. My Goitre is less than half the size it was and is going down steadily. I did not believe it was possible to reduce it in that manner and am more than pleased, not only at the relief from my Goitre, but at the great improvement in my general health all around.

Anyone wanting to know more about my case can call on me or write me and if they are ailing I will be more than glad to tell them how I feel.

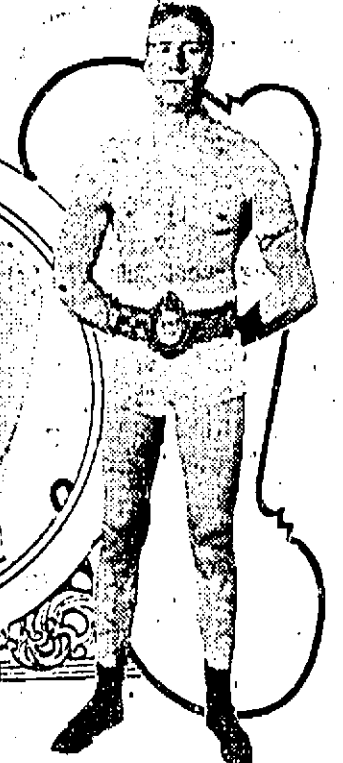

You can use this testimonial for publication if you wish for it is due other sufferers to know where to go for relief.

Very Sincerely,
ELMA SPENCER,
23 So. Main St., Janesville, Wis.

AL PALZER

BOMB BILLY WELLS

TWO WHITE HOPES BATTLE ON JULY FOURTH.
New York City.—Tom O'Rourke, manager of Al Palzer, the "white hope," today declared that all arrangements for the fight between Bomb Billy Wells, the English heavyweight, and Palzer, at San Francisco on July 4, have been completed. Tom said that he had received a telegram from Eddie Grimes, the fight promoter of California, stating that Wells had accepted the terms offered him and that he would sail for America in about ten days. Palzer is fast recovering from a heavy cold and may be matched to fight some other heavyweight in about two weeks.

ONLY THREE STAR MIDDLEWEIGHTS.
In the last few days there has been more real elimination in the middleweight division than has been accomplished in the so-called "elimination tournaments" held in the East and at New Orleans in the last six months. The bouts of the week have thrown George (Knockout) Brown and Billy Papke, erstwhile "thunderbolt" out of the running and into the junk heap. Brown was trimmed by Hugo Kelly at Kenosha and Papke was whipped by Frank Mantell at Sacramento, Cal. Kelly's work against Brown was such as to entitle him to serious consideration in the race for the title. Mantell deserves little credit for his victory over Papke, as the bout was a tame one in which neither man showed class. Papke failed utterly in his attempt to "come back."

Frank Klaus, whipped "Sailor Petroskey" on the coast Thursday, but his showing was disappointing. Al, though he says the Sailor a severe beating, he showed that he did not possess a genuine sleep wallop and is far from being classed as a really clever man.

A GOOD COUGH CURE

Do you remember the good old cough cure mother used to have? It didn't taste like cherry pie but it did cure a cough in a hurry. Mr. Pfennig, our Graduate Pharmacist and Chemist, makes our cough balsam by percolation direct from the roots, barks and balsams of wild cherry, bloodroot, Lobelia, white pine bark. Thoroughly obtaining the full medicinal virtue and strength of each drug, making it into a syrup we call "Badger Cough Balsam." It is made after an old prescription which is today the best cure for any cough, bronchial or lung trouble, healing and soothing to the irritated throat and lungs. It cures by assisting to expel the phlegm from the lungs, not by dosing the system with morphine and chloroform as do the modern patent cough remedies, deadening the nervous system, stupefying the lungs into retaining the mucous, thereby bringing on possible pneumonia and pleurisy. Badger Cough Balsam is a trustworthy expectorant, it loosens up and expels the phlegm. Get a bottle today for yourself or the children. It's safe to use, 25c. lady bitter toward Clifford Pinchot, Gov. Johnson of California, Medill McCormick and others who were in his camp, but are now supporting Mr. Roosevelt for the presidency. He holds them guilty of political treachery toward him and frankly confesses his purpose to get even if he can.

"The English language is not adequate to express Mr. La Follette's feelings toward Mr. Roosevelt. The former president is a thorn in the side of the Wisconsin senator. A political supporter who visited La Follette at his home last week has told his friends at the capital that for three solid hours he listened to Mr. La Follette assail Mr. Roosevelt in the most bitter language. Mr. La Follette declared that Mr. Roosevelt would not have a single Wisconsin vote in the convention under any circumstances.

"The attitude of the Wisconsin boss is giving his political supporters grave concern. Some of them, like Representatives Leacock, Moros and Nelson, are on record in favor of Mr. Roosevelt, provided 'Bob' hasn't a chance. Now they are wondering where they are. They realize Mr. La Follette won't have to exceed a dozen delegates in the Chicago convention and that his fight against Mr. Roosevelt means he is entirely out of the presidential possibility.

"It is this situation which is menacing the La Follette machine in Wisconsin. It is said that even the trusted Leacock is showing signs of irritation at Bob's attitude and has indicated that he is tired of being moved about as a pawn on the political chessboard. At present the main effort of the La Follette men is to prevent the Wisconsin senator from any public expression of what he is saying privately about Theodore Roosevelt. They realize their own political scalp may drop in the basket if the boss breaks loose."

DIFFERENCE IN OPINION.

There appears to be a vast difference in opinion between the claims of a candidate for the office of mayor as to what he has accomplished for the city and what he really did accomplish. In another column of the paper will be found a communication from James Clough, an assessor in the Fifth ward, who doubts the statements referred to and states why. It is easy enough to claim everything in sight, but hard to prove as "Honest Abe" and prove them. Facts are not to be disputed, but vague claims can always be doubted and easily disproved. Cases without number might be cited to show where this same idea has prevailed in the past, but like the old saying, "You can fool some of the people part of the time, but not all the people all of the time."

Life is largely a process of simple addition.

The fact that two and two are four is a tremendous fact.

Suppose you try to make two and two three. You go to the poorhouse. Or to make two and two five. You go to the penitentiary.

Simple, you say?

Suppose you want to build up a fortune.

You must begin with addition. It is simple at first. But after you have added awhile you can begin to multiply. And that goes faster.

One time one is one, but a hundred times one is a hundred. It is the testimony of all men who have succeeded in making money that the first thousand dollars is the hardest to get. That thousand is the foundation. It is easier to build thereafter, because addition is slow and multiplication is rapid.

It is so of building character.

It is difficult at first because you are laying the foundation by a layer of right actions. Add up these right actions and you develop a habit. And habit multiplies. By and by you acquire a momentum in habit that carries you on.

It is the old Scripture story of doubling the talent.

Or like the rolling snowball.

But you must add up the right sort of things. If you try to add up merely your ancestry, your family, your social position, etc., you will soon find that your bright light will not necessarily make character.

Moreover—

Bright and position will not count in the world's estimate. It may please your pride, but if you try to parade it you will become ridiculous.

Begin with simple addition.

Add up slowly that which you have really acquired of and by and for yourself. Like the snowball, the sum will be small at first, but it will grow. Two and two are four, but two times four are eight.

Begin at the beginning.

Most persons try to begin with multiplication rather than with simple addition.

Most persons want to put the capstone on the pyramid without first laying the foundation and adding to the superstructure.

First learn how to add.

After that multiplication will come easy.

Quart of Honey.

A bee culturist contributes some interesting data to Popular Mechanics, concerning the work of bees in gathering honey. He calculates that a quart of honey represents no less than 48,000 miles of flight between the hive and the flowers. Also, that in June, which is the busiest month of the season, the workers of one colony easily cover as much as twice the distance between the earth and moon in one day. The distance of the moon from the earth is 237,000 miles. Therefore, the gathering of about 10 quarts of honey means, totalling the flight of all the workers of the colony, a flight of some 475,200 miles.

KNAUTH CASE HELD*TO THE GRAND JURY ON CHARGE MADE

Preliminary Examination Held This Afternoon Before Commissioner Tallman—Postpone Davenport Hearing.

At the preliminary examination of "Hull Dog Joe" Knauth, charged with using the mails to defraud, held before United States Court Commissioner Stanley Tallman this afternoon Knauth was held over to the grand jury which will meet in Madison on March 21st, at which time it will be determined whether an indictment will be brought. It was also announced by Assistant United States District Attorney H. H. Morgan, who prepared for the government, that the hearing for Henry Davenport which was scheduled for tomorrow afternoon would be postponed for ten days to accommodate Thomas S. Nelson, attorney for the defendant, who has several pressing cases in the circuit court.

Postal Inspector Ralph Hird was the only witness sworn in the hearing of Knauth this afternoon. He stated that the facts set forth in the complaint were true. Knauth had no defense to offer admitting the facts of the case but contesting the interpretation of the law. His bail was again placed at $1,000, and a permanent commitment was made out. Knauth has not yet made arrangements for an attorney and his efforts to secure bail have been futile although he expects to secure the necessary money by the middle of the month. Knauth's arrest was made in Heloit, February 23rd, and he was brought to Janesville the same evening when he appeared before Commissioner Tallman and his bail fixed. He will remain in the county jail here.

MEN ARE NAMED TO*SUCCEED MILLIKEN

Fred L. Smith of This City and Chas. E. Sanders of Chicago Act as Superintendents.

Announcement has been made by the management of the Janesville Machine Company of the appointment of Fred L. Smith of this city as superintendent of the manufacturing department, and Charles E. Sanders of Chicago as superintendent of the purchasing, cost, stock and shipping departments. The increased amount of business has made necessary this division of the work which was formerly under the charge of N. L. Milliken in the position of general superintendent.

Mr. Smith has been with the Janesville Machine Company for the past nineteen years. He was originally in charge of the machine shop but for the last three years he has been assistant superintendent. His work has been continually successful, and has fitted him for his new position. Mr. Sanders has had an experience which has equipped him for the work at the local factory where he begins his duties this week.

With the announcement of these important changes it is also stated by the management of the company that extensive construction work will be carried on this summer. Contracts have been arranged for the erection of a two-story steel and cement blacksmith and plow shop on the corner of Center and River streets to take the place of the frame building now in use. It is planned to make the addition to the plant the most modern plow shop in the country.

Change at Parker Pen.

Rella A. Dolson has been promoted to the position of assistant superintendent of the Parker Pen company. He will act under the direction of Carl Little, who was made superintendent after the resignation of John Gollner.

ALL PLEASED WITH*MID-WINTER FAIR

Pronounced One of Best Exhibitions Ever Held in Janesville by All Who Attended.

No one who attended the Mid-Winter fair held at the Rink last week hesitated to call the affair one of the most successful which has been in Janesville. The number of exhibitors was far larger than is usual at the county fairs throughout the state and the quality of the grain was equal to that seen at the state fair in Milwaukee. Prof. Leith of the Wisconsin agricultural school, who had charge of the judging of the grain, was very favorably impressed with the exhibition. He declared it was unusual to have such an interest shown in a fair held in mid-winter and that such a fair was not generally held.

Interest is growing in the proposal to have an agricultural exhibition of some kind at the grounds on the Janesville Park Association next summer. It is evident that the show, if held, longer be legally detained. District Attorney Dunwiddie replied that the defendants were not bound over to the court for trial on a specifically named charge. Judge Field ruled that the objection raised was immaterial and denied the motion. The witnesses detained are Joseph Harris, William Lang and John Carlson. As they were not able to furnish a bond of $100 each for their appearance in court Thursday they will be kept in jail until that time. The defendants not being prepared to give $500 each, will also be detained in jail. They will be given a jury trial.

F. W. Gillman, Deputy Chief of Police of Janesville, who arrested the men were here this morning. Through questioning the Dutch brothers he learned that they came from Peoria, Ill. On his request for information concerning them, W. W. Rhodes, superintendent of police of that city, wrote him a letter. In this he states that he is well acquainted with them both, that their names given here are false, their real names being Ferno and Everett Jones.

NASH*PLEAD NOT GUILTY*TO ASSAULT CHARGE

Trial of John and Frank Dough, Participants in Scrape at Evansville, Adjourned to Thursday.

John and Frank Dough, participants in the scrape at Evansville a week ago, against whom was filed an information charging them with assault with intent to do bodily harm on Section Bess Murphy, entered a plea of not guilty this morning when Attorney Fisher appeared for the defendants, and on his attorney Stanley Dunwiddie, the trial was adjourned until Thursday morning at ten o'clock.

Attorney Fisher asked that the three witnesses detained by the state be dismissed, stating as his grounds that as the language of the complaint had been changed from "assault with intent to do bodily harm" to "assault with intent to do bodily harm," they could no longer be legally detained. District Attorney Dunwiddie replied that the defendants were not bound over to the court for trial on a specifically named charge. Judge Field ruled that the objection raised was immaterial and denied the motion. The witnesses detained are Joseph Harris, William Lang and John Carlson. As they were not able to furnish a bond of $100 each for their appearance in court Thursday they will be kept in jail until that time. The defendants not being prepared to give $500 each, will also be detained in jail. They will be given a jury trial.

TRUSTING IN MONEY SUBJECT OF SERMON

REV. HAZEN PREACHES FROM TEXT "ONE THING THOU
LACKEST." MARK 10:21.

WHAT LACKEST THOU?

Trusting in Riches is What Makes
Hard For a Man to Enter
Heaven, Not the Possession of Wealth.

Taking as his text the tenth chapter of Mark and the twenty-first verse, "One thing thou lackest," Rev. J. C. Hazen of the First Baptist church preached a strong sermon on the things which alone keep each of us back. Every human being has some faults and bad habits but there is generally some one thing which is far greater than the others which prevents us from living a much better life.

In the beginning Rev. Hazen spoke of the appearance of the rich young ruler, his rich clothing, his culture, his clean past and religious life showing in his face, and his worthiness in seemingly all ways. He brought out the semblance of this young man to hundreds of other young men of this day and generation and hundreds of other people who are in the same situation.

Jesus recognized the value of everything that the young man had done which was worthy. He approved of his culture and education. He gave him credit for the long and faithful religious life which he had led. His influence in the community, his industry, his every ability and his quality was appreciated and held at its highest value by Jesus.

But Jesus did not look at his outward appearance and qualities as other men did. He was not misled by the fine clothes, the refinement, the clean record, and the many things which appealed to the community and for which he was respected and liked by all who knew him. Jesus saw through all of this and looked down into his very soul. During the life of Jesus he had seen a great many people in all of whom he had found some good. "Is this not a great thing for everyone of us to cultivate as we pass through life daily meeting hundreds of people all of whom have some good in them though it is covered up by a great deal of bad?"

Another quality which the young man showed us he rushed to Jesus was that of perfect submission. Upon the impulse of the moment probably he ran to Jesus, and without hesitation bent upon his haughty knees in the dirt of the road and pleaded for enlightenment. Should we not do the same as we come to Jesus during our daily work even in prosperity?

With his pride and haughtiness suppressed before the Master the rich young ruler told him of his life and his qualifications for heaven as he himself saw them. What one thing did I lack with all my advantages is the cry with which he throws himself on the ground at Jesus' feet. How often does each one of us lack but one thing to make our lives an example? That man is one of the best workmen in the factory, but this morning when there is extra work to do, he is getting over the effect of his long habit. Some one thing was lacking to make him valuable with all of his assets.

In answering his question, as he knelt in the dust, Jesus placed the entire responsibility on the shoulders of the man himself. Go sell what thou hast and give to the poor and thou shalt have treasure in heaven. When we ask him what to do in the crisis of our lives and receive an answer, the responsibility is then on our own shoulders and it depends upon ourselves what we do to take up the cross and follow him as the disciples had done. But the young man was possessed of great riches and went away sad. What Jesus wanted was for him to follow the spirit of what he said, and not necessarily the exact word. Despite his religious training the young man had let riches get the better of him and his appreciation of them become greater than his desire to enter heaven. How hardly shall a rich man enter into the kingdom of heaven.

Even when told that he would have treasure in heaven, the young man could not bring himself to give up his riches which he loved even better than his own life. "What one thing is it that I lack that I may enter the kingdom of heaven?"

GIVES NEW PHASES OF SUFFRAGE WORK

Miss Harriet Grimm in Address at High School Tomorrow Will Explain Practical Points.

The address on equal suffrage by Miss Harriet Grimm at the high school building at four o'clock tomorrow will give the people of Janesville an opportunity to learn some of the new phases of the practical equality question. Arguments have been presented against woman suffrage for a great many years and it is only reasonable to give the other side a hearing. The discussion of woman suffrage here is the local indication of a statewide campaign being conducted by the Political Equality League of Wisconsin, whose headquarters are in Milwaukee.

That it is a serious, intelligent movement may be seen by the women who head it. The president of the state organization is Miss Ada James of Highland Center. Mrs. Crystal Eastman Benedict, state manager, is a recognized authority on economic matters. She was one of the ablest investigators on the staff of the Pittsburgh survey and her work there gained widespread attention through the country.

Mrs. Eastman has just been attending a mass meeting in New York City, held to raise funds for the Wisconsin campaign among eastern sympathizers. The local suffragists are planning a campaign of education rather than any militant movement. They are distributing literature, arranging for lectures and calling the attention of the public to the excellent books dealing with woman suffrage in the Janesville public library.

REFERENDUM UNDER ATTACK IN OREGON

University Brings Suit Against Secretary of State—Alleged "Gross Frauds in Appropriation Vote."

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

Eugene, Ore., March 4.—Alleged abuses of popular rule through the referendum will be pointed out this week when the suit of the University of Oregon against the Secretary of State is argued in the state supreme court of Salem. The 1911 session of the legislature appropriated $500,000 for the University of Oregon, which is located here, but before the law became operative, a referendum petition filed by one H. J. Parkinson was presented, tying up the appropriation until 1912, when the people would be given an opportunity to vote on the question. Careful examination of the petitions showed evidence of fraud, so suit was brought by a request of the university to prevent the Secretary of State putting the referendum question on the ballot. Attack was made on the petition on the ground that large numbers of names were forged, and that various technicalities of the law had not been complied with.

As the trial progressed, Parkinson was forced to admit that he knew some of the work of his agents was fraudulent, but counsel for the Secretary of State contended that, eliminating the fraudulent names there would yet be enough to make good the calling of the referendum. The state objected that the plaintiff in the case had no right to bring such suit, and that he had not followed the prescribed forms.

Attorneys for the state university, on the other hand, maintain the right of any legal voter to bring such a suit, and furthermore they make the main contention that fraud is part of the petition invalidates the whole, especially where the fraud is so extensive and is so well known before the filing of the petitions.

The case has aroused much interest in Oregon, which state was the first to adopt the initiative and referendum, and various means of safeguarding the principle are being discussed by friends of the law, for they fear that if frauds are allowed to get by, worse frauds will be perpetrated and the whole system brought into disrepute.

SENATOR HENRY
ALGERNON DU PONT

ELECTION TO BE INVESTIGATED.
Washington, D. C.—Senator Henry Algernon Du Pont of Delaware, whose reelection last year may be investigated by the Senate, Senator Reed of Missouri filed a resolution yesterday to investigate the election. Of course the regular Republican will oppose any such step, but it is believed that a coalition of the Democrats and the Progressives will make the investigation probable. Beginning with Senator Lorimer Senator du Pont is the third member of the "greatest deliberative body in the world" to have his election investigated.

RAILROAD LABORERS OF WEST-COMBING

Delegates Representing Shop Trades
Holding Conference With Labor
Leaders in Other Branches.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 4.—Delegates representing the shop trades on every western railroad are to hold a conference here this week with a number of prominent labor leaders and representatives of the various other branches of organized railroad labor, to perfect the details of a significant combination or confederation of all the mechanical trades on the railroads west of the Mississippi river. A great deal of preparatory work has been done already, but there is still much to be done before this far-reaching plan can be brought to full maturity.

In a general way the complete plans contemplate the formation of a territorial organization of railroad employees that will include every railroad operating west of the Mississippi river. Before this ultimate result can be achieved, it will be necessary to perfect a system of federations of the various organized crafts of every one of the western railroads.

Heretofore the mechanical trades of the various railroads were not federated with the other trades of their respective lines and in case of a strike they had no support from the other trades. The railroad companies, having an understanding among themselves, helped each other and the strikers were invariably defeated. Realizing that their weakness was due to the lack of a thorough understanding between the railroad employees, a movement to bring the various trades into closer touch and to form not only federations of the mechanical trades of all western railroads, but also system federations including combinations on every railroad between the mechanical and the traffic trades of that railroad, in other words a federation of the shop men with the engineers, firemen, conductors and brakemen of each system.

After these plans have been carried to full completion, the labor leaders believe, the mechanical trades will be in a position to bring sufficient pressure to bear upon the railroads to obtain from them the granting of their wage demands hitherto refused. Demands will be made on all railroads in the same territory at the same time, so that all these railroads will be involved at the same time, should a strike be called. Even if the railroads should be inclined to resist the demands of the shopmen, they will, it is believed, be compelled to yield, if the shopmen are fully supported by the other branches of work on the same railroad system.

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

A BLOODY TRIBUNAL.

By A. W. MACY.
The institution known as the Revolutionary Tribunal was established at Paris in 1792, and was a very prominent feature of the French Revolution. From the time of its establishment up to July 27, 1794, it had condemned 2,774 persons to death. Its victims were of almost all ages and of both sexes. The oldest victim was "Councillor-Dupin, aged 97, and its youngest Charles Dubost, a youth of 14. The list of unfortunate victims included many people belonging to the nobility and gentry, among them being Queen Marie-Antoinette and Princess Elizabeth, Robespierre, the leading instigator of the bloody tribunal, was deposed from power on July 27, 1794, and from that time until the tribunal was ended, December 15, 1794, only about 100 persons fell victims to it, they being Robespierre himself and his inhuman accomplices.

At The Theatre

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN.
"The survival of the fittest" is amply illustrated in the long life of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," which has been before the public for more years than most of this paper's readers care to remember. This truly American stage classic's present day popularity has long furnished food for thought among producing managers, playwrights and the public generally. That it will never die, but live on forever, seems an assumed fact insofar as the Stetson company is concerned. This famous dramatic organization is due at Myers Theater, Friday, March 8, matinee and evening, March 9, at 2:45 p. m., and parade at two o'clock, in an entirely new and up-to-date elaborate dress. For this reason, Manager Washburn secured a cast of all stage favorites, each member having been selected for his or her special fitness for the respective parts. The valuable numbers introduced throughout the action of the play are features to be seen only with the Stetson company.

"THE CHOCOLATE SOLDIER"
"The Chocolate Soldier," which is enjoying its third season of unabated popularity, has broken the old rule that "Familiarity breeds contempt." In the case of this masterpiece of Oscar Straus and the Viennese school of music, the familiarity that the American people possess with its captivating melodies and its self-illustrating wit, has only made them

Public Invited To Hear The Program

Social Union Program Will Be Opened to the Public After Banquet Hour.

The arrangement committee for the meeting of the Social Union at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium tomorrow evening have announced that the program for the evening which will begin at 7:15 will be open to the public, men and women. This arrangement was thought advisable as there are great many people in the city who are not members of the club, who are anxious to hear what such an eminent authority on the question of woman's suffrage as Miss Harriet Delmon will have to say on the subject.

Use for Microscope.

A powerful microscope is recommended by the department of agriculture as a kitchen utensil to detect adulterants.

More Sugar Trials Coming.

New York, March 4.—The cause of Washington D. Thomas, president of the American Sugar Refining Company, other officers and directors of the company and Thomas D. Harney, a Philadelphia lawyer, were called for trial today in the United States Circuit Court. The defendants are under indictment charging them with violations of the Sherman anti-trust law.

Little Theatre To Open.

New York, March 4.—The Little Theatre, the playhouse which Winthrop Ames, former director of the New Theatre, has built in West Forty-fourth Street for the presentation of intimate drama, is completed and it is expected to give the opening performance some time this week. The first play to be acted is "The Pigeon," a satirical comedy by John Galsworthy.

Youthful Desperado on Trial.

Chehalis, Wash., March 4.—Adelbert Clark, the young desperado who shot and killed Lawrence C. Bar, a banker of Centralia, in a daylight attempt to rob the bank last December, was arraigned here today to stand trial on a charge of first degree murder.

Southern Shoe Retailers.

Atlanta, Ga., March 4.—The annual convention of the Southern Shoe Retailers' Association began in this city today with an attendance representing a dozen states. The members will spend three days in the discussion of numerous matters relating to the retail shoe trade.

Iron Only Found In Ore.

Iron ores are chiefly oxides, and native iron is almost unknown except in the meteorites occasionally picked up.

Consolation for Girls.

Beware of the homely little girl, for she is more than likely to be the handsomest of her set when she is ready to leave school, and will no doubt remember any slights that were offered her when she was an ugly little duckling. It is seldom that the pretty child grows into a very beautiful woman, and that is no doubt the way nature avenges up things.

How Popular He'll Be Some Day.

He is six and she is five. They are in the same kindergarten class. Their homes are less than half a block apart. They love each other dearly, and every day he escorts her home from school and leaves her with a kiss. The grown-ups noticed all this, and there was a little teasing. Finally Little Girl's mother said, "I wouldn't let the little boy kiss me good-bye if I were you." The next day mother was at the door when Little Girl and Little Boy came home together. "You mustn't kiss me," said Little Girl. "Mother says she doesn't like it." Little Boy looked disconcerted for just about the tenth part of a second. Then, "But YOU like it, don't you?" he said, and kissed her as usual and trudged along.

VERY SEVERE WINTER FOR POOR OF CITY

Demand for County Aid in Buying Coal Unprecedented—Commissioner Anderson Has Many Calls. According to Poor Commissioner Anderson the demand for coal in Janesville this winter has been one of the severest the city has ever experienced. The demand for county aid in buying coal is unprecedented. Several families which have hitherto been entirely independent and self-supporting have asked his help for this purpose but requested that their names not be recorded as those receiving county aid. Commissioner Anderson was able to accommodate them by extending the county's credit as surety and in practically every instance those who accepted aid under these circumstances have paid for their coal. Very little clothing has had to be furnished by the county. Commissioner Anderson says he has not had to buy as much as a half dozen pair of shoes. The clothing left over from that collected for the poor of the county has been sufficient to provide for the demand for groceries was also very light; not any more than it was last summer, indicating that what is purchased goes principally to habitual dependents. The poverty-stricken seem to be able to secure credit for necessary provisions and clothing when it is impossible to get it for other needs. Another index to the condition of the poor is the number of commitments made to the county house. These in Mr. Anderson's district exceed last year's figure by about 20. The marked increase in the cost of living without a corresponding increase in wages is given by Mr. Anderson as the cause of much of the distress, and he does not look for substantial relief to come until these are better adjusted.

Compare the taste of Schlitz in BROWN BOTTLES with beer in light bottles

Schlitz is as pure when poured into your glass as when it left the brewery. It's the Brown Bottle. It keeps out the light. Light develops in beer a peculiar taste and a disagreeable odor.

This is not a theory. It is a fact proven by scientists. Schlitz is properly aged before leaving the brewery.

It will not cause biliousness, nor ferment in your stomach.

Schlitz in Brown Bottles costs you no more than common beer in light bottles.

CASCARETS WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP

Salts, Calomel and Cathartic Pills are violent—they act on bowels as pepper acts in nostrils. Take a Cascaret tonight and thoroughly cleanse your Liver, Stomach and Bowels, and you will surely feel great by morning. You men and women who have headache, coated tongue, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel all wrong out. Are you keeping clean inside with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passage every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important. Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the decomposed waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels. Remember, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. A 10-cent box from your drugstore means a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children.

THE WAY OF A MAN

By EMERSON HOUGH

Copyright, 1912, by the Gales Publishing Company

"Orme," said I, "Gordon Orme? That was the name of the speaker the other evening here at the church of the Methodists."

No nodding, smiling. "Don't let that trouble you," said he.

None the less it did trouble me, for the truth was that word had gone about to the effect that a new minister from some place not stated had spoken from the pulpit on that evening upon a topic that the ever present one of southern slavery. Now, I could not clear it to my mind how a minister of the gospel might take so keen and swift an interest in a stranger in the street and that stranger's horse. I expressed to him something of my surprise.

"It's of no importance," said he again. "What seems to me of most importance just at present is that here's a son of old Kingwalla and that I want to ride him."

"Just for the sake of saying you have done so?" I inquired.

His face changed swiftly as he answered. "We owned Kingwalla our selves back home. He broke a leg for my father one day and was near killing him."

"Sir," I said to him, catching his thought quickly, "we could not afford to have the horse injured, but if you wish to ride him fair or be beaten by him fair you are welcome to the chance."

His eyes kindled at once. "You're a sportsman, sir!" he exclaimed, and he advanced at once toward Satan.

I saw in him something which awakened a responsive chord in my nature. He was a man to take a risk and welcome it for the risk's sake. Moreover, he was a horseman. He caught the check strap of the bridle and motioned us away as we would have helped him at the horse's head. Then ensued a pretty fight between man and horse as one could ask to see. The black brute reared and fairly tossed him from the ground, fairly chased him about the street, as a great dog would a rat. But never did the iron hold on the bridle loosen, and the man was light on his feet as a boy. Finally he had his chance, and with the lightest spring I ever saw at a saddle skirt, up he went and nailed old Satan fair with a grip which ridged his legs out.

As the horse lunged and bolted about the street Orme sat him in perfect confidence. He kept his hands low, his knees a little more up and forward than we use in our style of riding, and his weight a trifle farther back, but I saw from the lines of his limbs that he had the horse in a steel grip.

He eased down contemplatively with a half serious look, master of himself and of the horse as well. Then presently he turned him up the road and went off at a gallop with the brute under perfect control. I do not know what he intended. All I can say is that in a half hour he brought Satan back in a canter.

This was my first acquaintance with Gordon Orme, that strange personality with whom I was later to have much to do. This was my first witnessing of that half unconscious power by which he seemed to win all things to his purposes. I admired him, yet did not like him, when he swung carelessly down and handed me the reins.

"It's a grand one," he said easily, "but not so difficult to ride as old Kingwalla. Not that I would discount your own skill in riding him, sir, for I doubt not you have taken a lot out of him before now."

At least this was generous, and, as I later learned, it was like him to give full credit to the performance of any able adversary.

Advertising is a good deal like nothing—you can't get rich by taking on "whack" at it—it's the constant "hogging away" that brings results.

CHAPTER II.

The Art of the Orient.

"COME," said Orme to me, "let us go into the shade, for I find your Virginia morning warm."

We stepped over to the gallery of the little tavern.

"So you did not hear my little effort the other night?" he remarked, smiling.

"I was not so fortunate as to hear you speak, but I will only say I will back you against any minister of the gospel I ever knew when it comes to riding horses."

"Oh, well," he deprecated, "I'm just passing through on my way to Albemarle county across the mountains. You couldn't blame me for wanting something to do—speaking or riding or what not. One must be occupied, you know. But shall we not have them bring us one of those juleps of the country? I find them most agreeable, I declare."

"A while ago," I said, "my father came to me and said, 'Jack, that thee is trying to do three things—to farm, hunt foxes and drink juleps. Does thee think thee can handle all three of these activities in combination?' You see, my mother is a Quakeress, and when my father wishes to improve me he uses the plain speech. Well, sir, I thought it over, and for the most part, I dropped the other two and took up more farming."

"Your father is Mr. John Cowles of Cowles' Farms?"

"The same."

"These are troublous times," he remarked. "I mean in regard to this talk of secession of the southern states."

I was studying this man. What was he doing here in our quiet country community? What was his errand? What business had a julep drinking, horse riding person speaking in a Virginia pulpit where only the gospel was known, and that from exponents worth the name?

"You are from Washington?" I said at length.

He nodded.

"The country is going into deep water one way or the other," said I. "Virginia is going to divide on slavery. It is not for me nor for any of us to hasten that time. Trouble will come fast enough without our help."

"I infer you did not wholly approve of my little effort the other evening. I was simply looking at the matter from a logical standpoint. It is perfectly clear that the old world must have cotton, that the southern states must supply that cotton and that slavery alone makes cotton possible for the world. It is a question of geography rather than of politics, yet your northern men make it a question of politics. Your congress is full of rotten tariff legislation, which will make a few of your northern men rich and which will bring on this war quite as much as anything the south may do. Moreover, this tariff disgusts England and side when the break comes? And what will be the result when the south, plus England, fights these tariff makers over here? I have no doubt that you, sir, know the complexion of all these neighborhood families in these matters. I should be most happy if you could find it possible for me to meet your father and his neighbors, for in truth I am interested in these matters merely as a student, and I have heard much of the kindness of this country toward strangers."

It was not our way in Virginia to allow persons of any breeding to put up at public taverns. I had no hesitation in saying to Mr. Orme that we should be glad to entertain him at Cowles' Farms.

We were sitting some paces from the room where Landlord Sanderson kept his bar, so that we heard only occasionally the sound of loud talk which came through the windows. But now came footsteps and confused words in voices, one of which I seemed to know. There staggered through the door a friend of mine, Harry Singleton, a young planter.

"Hello, old fellow," he croaked at me. "Hurrah for C'federate States of Amer'ica!"

"Very well," I said to him, "suppose we do hurrah for the Confederate States of America. But let us wait until there is such a thing."

He glowered at me. "Also," he said solemnly, "Hurrah for Miss Grace Sheraton, the pretties' girl in whole C'federate States America!"

"Hurrah," I cried, "stop! You're drunk, man. Come on. I'll take you home."

In waved at me an uncertain hand. "Go way, slight man!" he muttered. "Grace Sheraton pretties' girl in whole C'federate States America."

According to our creed it was not permissible for a gentleman, drunk or sober, to mention a lady's name in a placed like that. I rose and put my hand across Harry's mouth, unwilling that a stranger should hear a girl's name mentioned in the place. To my surprise Harry Singleton was just suddenly intoxicated to resent the act of his best friend. With no word of warning he drew back his hand and struck me in the face with all his force, the blow making a smart crack, which brought all the others running from within. Still, I reflected, this was not the act of Harry Singleton, but only that of a drunken man, who tomorrow would not remember what had been done.

"That will be quite enough, Harry," said I. "Come, now, I'll take you home. Sanderson, go get his horse or wagon or whatever brought him here."

"Not home!" cried Harry. "First in-let punishment on you for denyin' Miss Grace Sheraton pretties' girl in whole C'federate States America. Give like John Cowles too much! Must nash John Cowles! Must nash John Cowles sake of Grace Sheraton, pretties' girl in whole white world!"

He came toward me as best he might.

I pulled his head against my chest, throwing him across my shoulder, his hands clinched. I caught him by the wrist, and as he stumbled past I turned and had his arm over my shoulder. I admit I threw him rather cruelly, but I thought he needed it.

"By Jove!" I heard a voice at my elbow. "That was handsomely done—handsomely done all around."

I turned to meet the outstretched hand of my new friend, Gordon Orme.

"Where did you learn the trick?" he asked.

"The trick of being a gentleman," I answered him slowly, my face red with anger at Singleton's foolishness. "I never learned at all, but to toss a poor drunken fool like that over one's head any boy might learn at school."

"No," said my quiet minister of the gospel emphatically, "I differ with you. Your throw was perfect. You made him do the work, not yourself. Tell me, are you a skilled wrestler?"

I was nettled now at all these things which were coming to puzzle and perturb an honest fellow out for a morning ride.

"Yes," I answered him, "since you are anxious to know, I'll say I can throw any man in Fairfax except one."

"And he?"

"My father. He's sixty, as I told you, but he can always beat me."

"There are two in Fairfax you cannot throw," said Orme, smiling.

"Sir," I said to him bluntly, "I propose taking you home with me. But before I do that and when you seem to wish it I am going to lay you on your back here in the road. Frankly, there are some things about you I do not like, and if that will remedy your conduct I'm going to do it for you for any sort of wager you like."

"Money against your horse?" he inquired, stripping to his ruffled shirt as he spoke. "A hundred guineas, five hundred?"

"Yes, for the horse," I said. "He's worth ten thousand. But if you've two or three hundred to pay for my selling the shoulders of your shirt I'm willing to let the odds stand so."

"I like you," he said simply. "If all the men of this country resembled you all the world could not beat it."

"Orme came to me with a huffy and no anxiety, light on his feet as a skilled fencer. As he passed he struck my shoulder, and his grip, although it did not hold, was like the cutting of a hawk's talons. He branded me red with his fingers wherever he touched me, although the stroke of his hand was half tentative rather than aggressive. I went to him with head low, and he caught me at the back of the neck with a stroke like that of a smiling bar, but I flung him off, and so we stepped about, hands extended, waiting for a hold. He grew eager and allowed me to catch him by the wrist. I drew him toward me, but he braced with his free arm bent against my throat, and the more I pulled the more I choked. Then by sheer strength I drew his arm over my shoulder as I had that of Harry Singleton. He glided into this as though it had been his own purpose, and, true as I speak, I think he aided me in throwing him over my head, for he went light as a feather and fell on his feet when I freed him."

As we stepped about cautiously, seeking to engage again, his eye was fixed on mine curiously, half contemptuously, but utterly without concern or fear of any kind. I never saw an eye like this. It gave me not fear, but horror. The more I encountered him the more uneasy he appeared. Continually I felt his hands, and where he touched there was pain—on my forehead, at the edge of my eye sockets, at the sides of my neck, in the middle of my back—whenever we locked and I felt pain, and I knew that such assault upon the nerve centers of a man's body might well disable him, no matter how strong he was. But, as for him, he did not breathe the faster. It was system with him. I say I felt not fear only, but a horror of him.

By chance I found myself with both hands on his arms, and I knew that no man could break that hold when once set, for vast strength of forearm and wrist was one of the inheritances of all men of the Cowles family. I drew him steadily to me, pulled his head against my chest and up ended him fair, throwing him this time at length across my shoulder. I was sure I had him then, for he fell on his side. But even as he fell he rose, and I felt a grip like steel on each ankle. Then there was a snakelike bend on his part, and before I had time to think I was on my face. His knees were astride my body, and gradually I felt them pushing my arms up toward my neck. I felt a slight blow on the back of my head, as though by the edge of the hand-light, delicate, gentle, but dreamy in its results. For the first time in my life I found myself about to be mastered by another man.

Had he been more careful he certainly would have had the victory over me. But the morning was warm, and we had worked for some moments. My man stopped for a moment in his calm poisoning of my arms and perhaps raised his hand to brush his face or push back his hair. At that moment luck came to my aid. He did not repeat the strange gentle blow at the back of my head—one which I think would have left unconscious a man with a neck less stiff—and as his pressure on my twisted arm relaxed I suddenly got back my faculties. At once I used my whole body as a spring and so straightened enough to turn and put my arm power against his own, which was all I wanted.

He laughed when I turned and with perfect good nature freed my arm and sprang to his feet, bowing with hard upreached to me.

"By the Lord, sir," he said, with a certain looseness of speech, as it seemed to me, for a minister of the gospel, "you're the first I ever knew to break it!"

"Twice no credit to me," I owned. "You let go your hand. The horse is yours."

"Not in the least," he responded; "not in the least. If I had felt I had won him I'd take him and not leave you feeling as though you had been given a present. But if you like I'll draw my own little wager as well. You're the best man I ever met in any country. By the Lord, man, you broke the hold that I once saw an ex-guardman killed at Singapore for resisting—broke his arm short off, and he died on the table. I've seen it at Tokyo and Nagasaki. Why, man, it's the yellow policeman's hold, the secret trick of the orient. Done in proper time, and the little gentleman is the match of any size, yellow or white."

Dreadful.

Realists are looking forward to the time when there will be none but pay-as-you-enter boarding houses in this country.

Children on the Streets.

It has been proven beyond all possibility of contradiction that the greatest percentage of boys and girls who are brought before the courts for delinquency owe their waywardness to the education they have received on the streets at night. The school of the streets is a bad one in which to receive an education. It is one of the factors that must be carefully guarded. The remedy must be keeping the children off the streets at night or to make the streets fit places for children. It is almost impossible to do the latter. It is possible to do the former. The city streets are public property. Any one is entitled to walk the streets, provided they do not violate any statutory ordinance in doing so. The city authorities have no power to intervene. The moral character of the pedestrian counts for nothing. The parent of the child has authority to keep the youngster at home and the whole parent will exercise this authority. —Memphis Commercial-Appeal.

Charming Old Boy.

Probably nothing in the world is as wholesome as seeing an old man thinking himself young. Truly, a man is only as old as he thinks. Sometimes, though, this tendency amounts to almost a frenzy and becomes wholly irreconcilable and beyond all reason. A case in point is emphasized in a postal card received by the circulation department of this Famous Old Dally from an eighty-three-year-old subscriber down-state: "Dear Sir: Why can't you send me the sporting extra instead of this five o'clock regular? We have a mind that this youngster will rock the boat, splash the ladies, and cut up all manners of kid dildos on the trip across the River Styx." —Buffalo News.

One Old Thing.

Said the superstitious friend of the conservative bride who eschows extremes in dress:

"I do hope she will have good luck. I wonder if she wears anything old?"

"Yes, the fashions," said the friend, whose motto is "Style or death."

Claimed as Record Bridge.

Claim is made that the new bridge spanning the Red river at Weocat, Cal., is the longest and largest reinforced concrete structure of the kind in the world. It is 2,551 feet over all.

Wake Up With a "Dark Brown Taste?"

Get Rid of It! Run for OLIVE TABLETS

There isn't the slightest need to wake up any morning with a "brown mouth." Let's be clear to describe it. Dr. Edwards has made "brown mouth" a thing of the past in thousands of homes with his little Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Anyone who takes Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets the moment he suspects his liver and bowels, never has a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a pimply face, constipation or any other form of bowel or liver disorder.

Take one just the moment you suspect you are constipated or that your liver is out of order.

Thousands take one at bedtime every night just to keep the bowels regular, the liver in order, the mouth clean and the breath pure and sweet.

Olive Tablets are made of pure vegetable compounds mixed with olive oil.

Dr. Edwards spent 17 years in practice and in laboratory experiments before he perfected Olive Tablets.

Why don't you try them instead of the severe kind of laxatives and gripes and only affect temporary relief?

Nervous, Debilitated and Run-Down

Either the Best Cure or Tona Vita Will Build You Up Again.

If you are nervous, debilitated, and run-down in health, there are two things you can do to bring back your strength and vitality. You can go to a sanitarium and take the rest cure or you can secure the great modern tonic "Tona Vita" and let it build you up and furnish new nourishment for your shattered nerves.

If you know what wonderful results have been accomplished by "Tona Vita" since physicians first introduced it in this country you would much rather take this tonic than to go to any sanitarium on earth. Here is a statement from Mr. J. H. House, of 381 Twentieth Ave., Milwaukee, Wis., who has tried "Tona Vita": "I was all run down, intensely nervous and suffered with the most violent headaches. I felt tired and dull all day, my body seemed benumbed at times, and I did not sleep well. My digestion was imperfect and I was continually constipated. As soon as I ate anything my stomach filled with gas and I was distressed for a half hour or more. My mind was dull and my memory very poor. I contracted a cold easily and suffered with severe coughs. Sometimes ago I talked with a physician who advised me to take "Tona Vita." I did it and am glad I did for the medicine was wonderful in my case. I feel as though I had a new lease on life. My ambition has returned as well as my strength and energy."

"I now sleep well and get up in the morning feeling cheerful and ready for work."

"My wife was also run down and nervous. She started taking the medicine when it began to help me. Her improvement has been slow and she is now in good health."

If you are run down and haven't enough strength it is your own fault. If you feel miserable a day longer, when you can get such a preparation as "Tona Vita."

You Can Make Your Farm Pay 6% on $1000 Per Acre Value

There is one piece of ground on Frank Mann's farm, near Gilman, Ill., that for seven years produced an average of 5 tons of alfalfa per acre. The next year it produced 20 tons of silage per acre, the next 115 bushels of corn, then 88 1/2 bushels of oats, and last year 52 1/2 bushels of wheat. The average gross return each year for these eleven years was more than $80 per acre. Making a most liberal allowance for all the labor and other expense of growing the crops, there is still enough net profit to pay 6 per cent interest on a valuation of $1,000 per acre. Land is worth as much money as the crops will pay interest on.

You Can Farm Like Frank Mann

You can make your farm worth $1,000 an acre by raising crops like Frank Mann's. FRANK MANN'S SOIL BOOK will tell you how. This book contains the meat of the practical experience of a man who has made good. It puts forward no unproven theories. Every point that the author makes is proved by facts from his own farm. It is a book of practical experience that any Middle Western farmer can follow on his own farm, and double his profits while he is doing it.
